I am currently a personal trainer looking to drastically change my life by entering the world of programming. My sole focus right now is increasing my skills and knowledge to a point where I can start my career as a junior developer. I have been learning React as my framework of choice so I can use this knowledge towards building professional applications in a business setting.

SKILLS & INTERESTS

Skills: Extensive history in customer service roles. Worked with clients from initial lead generation to point of sale to service delivery. Built connections with many different communities, through my fitness/social circles. I have a very motivated attitude and actively seek to inspire others around me. Excellent rapport building skills from years of service. Very process driven, great understanding on how different moving parts fit together. Cohesive team member, able to both follow and deliver orders.

Interests: Very experienced runner, cyclist, and swimmer. Competent at Archery, both field and target. Avid skier and capable snowboarder. Mental health advocate, both socially and professionally. Outdoor enthusiast, both for relaxation and exercise. I was a member of a competitive swim club for many years, attending Midlands and regional level competitions.
